The LGA Group

Works with and on behalf of the local government sector, and looks to councils for leadership. We are politically led, politically active and cross party and we work as one to assist councils and their partners to improve public services and strengthen local democracy.

We seek to support the sector to:

- become more self-determining;
- be free from disproportionate central government regulation;
- work effectively with the public and in partnership with government and others.
- enhance its responsibilities and reputation;
- act self confidently in pursuit of local authorities;

Local Government Association

Local Government Association (LGA)

We lobby and campaign on behalf of our 466 member authorities on the issues that matter to them most. We work with them to shape public debate, to influence policy and practice in public services and to put local people at the heart of public services.

improvement and development agency

Improvement and Development Agency (IDEA)

We work for local government improvement so councils can serve people and places better. Our focus is on supporting councils in their enhanced community leadership role and shaping the new performance framework for local government. Our offer is built around the real issues for local people, with a focus on partnership working, place-shaping and tackling cross-cutting issues.

promoting quality regulation

LACORS (local authorities coordinators of regulatory services)

We promote quality regulation through comprehensive policy advice, guidance and dissemination of good practice to councils and their partners. We also provide up-to-date information on policies and initiatives that affect local people and local services.

The Leadership Centre for Local Government

We believe it takes great leadership to create a thriving and prosperous community. We work with leaders in councils and in local strategic partnerships to help them shift their thinking on leadership and develop the skills and qualities they need to be effective leaders and fundamentally transform their communities for the better.
